Urban Development Institute of New Zealand Incorporated

New Board Chair - Campbell McGregor

The Urban Development Institute of New Zealand (UDINZ) today welcomes new board chair, Harrison Grierson's National Land Development Manager and Engineering New Zealand fellow, Campbell McGregor, after accepting existing board chair Dr Bernadette Pinnell's resignation last week.

Campbell has seen first-hand the good work UDINZ has achieved in growing the understanding of best-practice urban development in Aotearoa New Zealand.

"I'm excited to continue UDINZ's work and look forward to working with the board to champion great urban design and development," says Campbell.

UDINZ CEO Adrienne Miller is delighted with the new appointment and looks forward to working with Campbell and the board.

"I'd like to personally thank Dr Bernadette Pinnell for her time with UDINZ and wish her well on her executive commitments overseas," says Adrienne of Dr Pinnell's resignation.
